

Upside Down Circus 2018

Evangelism Training Camp for Youth Groups

A key part of the Upside Down Circus ministry is to provide an opportunity for ordinary, everyday people of the local church to engage in mission in their local community. The Upside Down Circus provides a safe 'space' and a supportive environment for people who love Jesus to come and use their gifts, talents and availability to share the love of Jesus with others.

We have observed that young people often are looking for opportunities to experience 'mission' and many times turn to excellent training packages that incorporate cross-cultural experiences in another country. There seem to be few opportunities specifically designed to help young people learn to do 'mission' in their own 'back yard'.

We would like to invite and enable youth groups of the northern suburbs to use the Upside Down Circus as an opportunity to train young people in local mission and evangelism.

Why get your youth group involved?

- because it will be a great opportunity, particularly for small youth groups, to experience working together in God's Kingdom with other Christian young people
- because it will be a great opportunity to develop relationships between youth groups and their leaders
- because young people need opportunities to be encouraged in their faith by being part of God's work and activity
- because young people are an important part of The Church and we need to invest in them and equip them to fulfil the Great Commission
- because, apart from the cost of food, it is a FREE 😊

Suggested Format:

Teaching, skills training, games, worship and prayer times will be organised over a 4 day/ 3 night camp utilising the Upside Down Circus event as practical experience. It is expected that youth leaders will attend with their youth groups.

When: Tuesday 9th to Friday 12th October 2018

Cost: Attendance at the camp will be free however individual groups will be expected to cover own food costs.

Accommodation: Accommodation is available and free and will be negotiated on expression of interest. However, camping is not compulsory and Groups may choose to simply attend all the activities but return home at night.

Register your interest in attending with your group via email to upsidecircus@gmail.com
